

channel

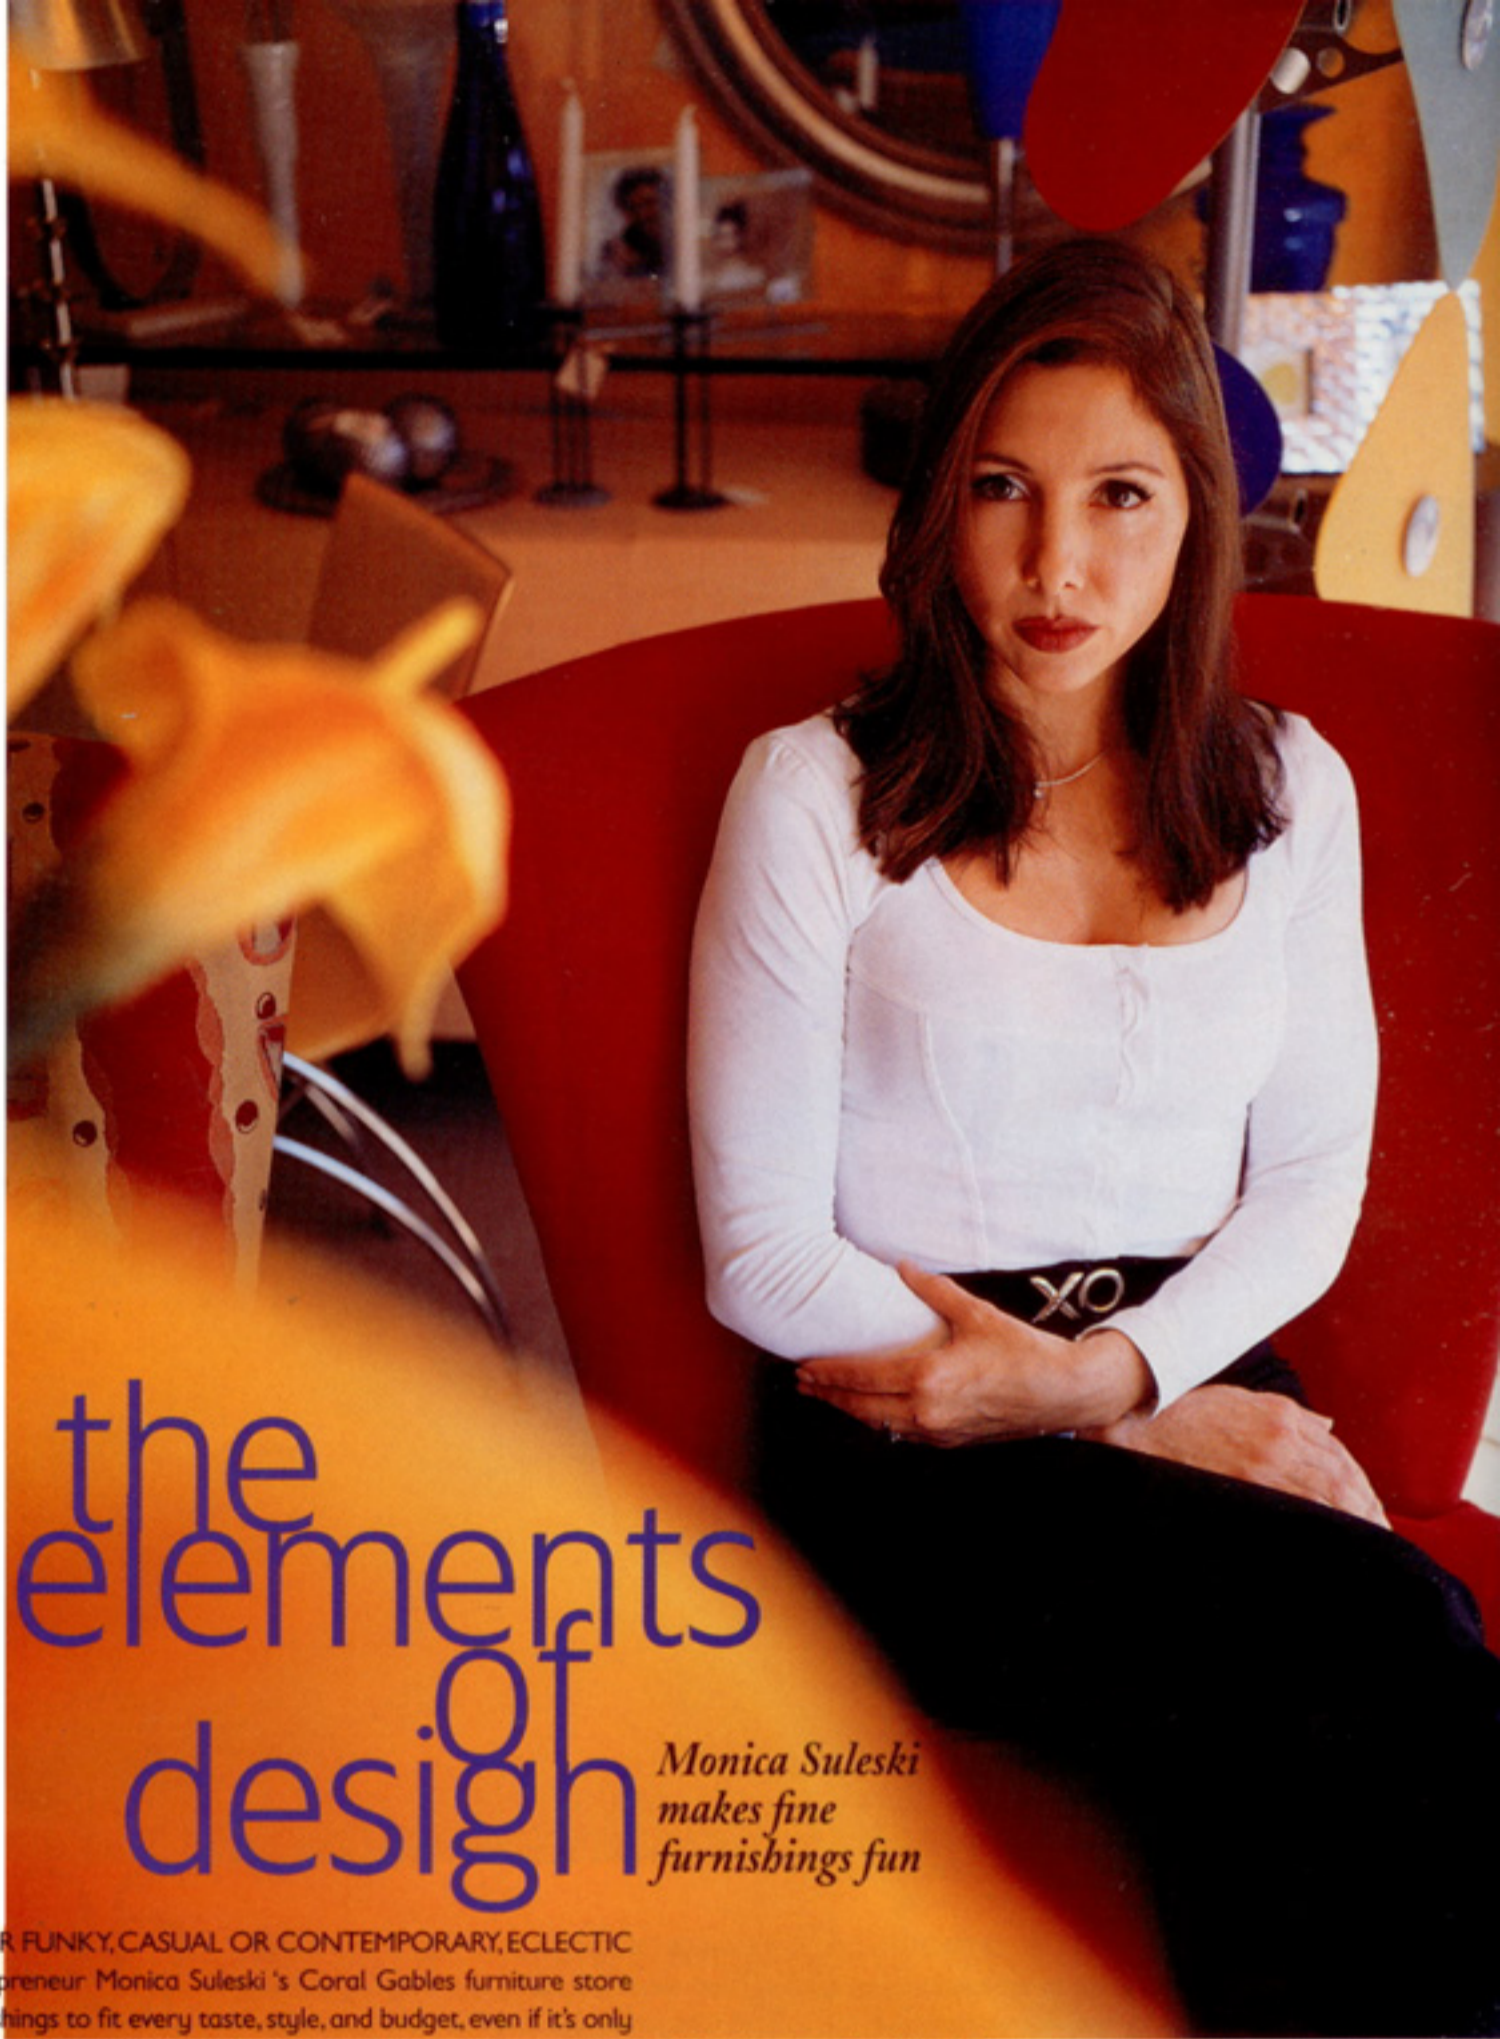

THE BEST OF CITY LIFE

Spring Fashion & Beauty

Trend Report Straight from the New York collections

Cameron Diaz
Works it in Miami

George Wayne's First Annual Declaration of the 50 Best Things
About South Beach
Plus: G.W.'s Top 100 List of What's "In"

the elements of design

*Monica Suleski makes fine
furnishings fun*

TRADITIONAL OR FUNKY, CASUAL OR CONTEMPORARY, ECLECTIC Elements — entrepreneur Monica Suleski's Coral Gables furniture store — has home furnishings to fit every taste, style, and budget, even if it's only in the movies. In addition to supplying trendy, upscale pieces for clients such as George Hamilton (who selected items for his eponymous restaurant/lounge) and a host of South Beach boutique hotels, Eclectic Elements is making its mark in the production world with its new role as a one-stop source for rental furnishings, accessories, and more. "Basically, we have great pieces to fit almost any budget and can put together a whole room — furniture, drapes, plants, accessories — in a matter of hours," explains Suleski. And they are, for production companies shooting everything from fashion shoots to talk shows, MTV to the Playboy Channel. "It really started out with a strong word-of-mouth clientele," Suleski says. "Since I began renting items for sets, that side of the business just took off."

—Catherine McElrath